A Good Sermon.

It should be brief; if lengthy, it will steep Our hearts in apathy, our eyes in sleep; The dull will yawn, the chapel lounger dose, Attention flag, and memory's portals close. It should be warm-a living altar coal, To melt the icy heart, and gharm the soul ; A lifeless, dull harangue, however read, Will never rouse the soul, or raise the dend. It should be simple, practical, and clear ;-No fine spun theory to please the ear; No curious lay, to tickle lettered pride, And leave the poor and plain unedified. It should be tender and affectionate, As his warm theme who wept lost Salem's fate; The fiery law, with words of love allayed, Will sweetly warm, and awfully persuade.

THE MISCHIEF OF A JEST .- The Boston Herald gives the following account of Mriton W. Streeter, now lying under the sentence of death in Massachusetts, for the murder of his wife:

Streeter is a man of low order of intellect, and almost entirely governed by the animal passions. He married his wife, Elvira Haughton, after one months' courtship, and was for several months most fondly attached to her, so much so we understand, that he could not bear to see any one render to her the most common attentions without exhibiting the utmost jealousy. This train was observed by his townsmen. and some of them made it a point to work upon his suspicious nature, by seeming to be upon the most in-timate terms with his wife. We were told that a man named Bacon, doing business on the Island of Cuba, visited Southbridge a few months before the commission of the murder, and either having discovered or been informed of Streeter's jealous disposition, set himself at work to excite his suspicions of the chastity of his wife to the highest degree. To this end he took lodgings in a tavern nearly opposite the house occupied by Streeter, and used every method in his power to insinuate that he was in unlawful communication with Mrs. S. Streeter observed this, and watched his wife and house with the utmost vigilance, often neglecting his occupations for that purpose; but he made no discovery warranting a certain belief that his wife was unfaithful to him with this individual.

It is said that some of his townsmen were accustomed from time to time to give him a half a dollar or so, and request him to give it to his wife, pretendthat they were indebted to her for that amount for some work done by her for them. Such things as these, long continued, had rendered Streeter nervous and irritable in the extreme, and he firmly believed that Mrs. Streeter had been guilty of infidelity to his bed; he had therefore threatened her with severe measures, unless she satisfied him of her innocence, and had carried a razor to bed with him several times, for the purpose of terrifying her into confession; but instead of confessing any thing, she finally complained to a justice of the peace that she considered her life endangered by any further cohabitation with him, and he was therefore put under bonds to keep the peace. and also was ordered to separate from his wife and

These rude and remorseless jokers have now the satisfaction of knowing that their fine sport has been purchased by the death of one human being at the hands of a murderer, and is yet to be farther paid by the death of another on the scaffold.

THE LATE MRS. MADISON .- The National Intelligencer, announcing the death of Mrs. Madison, pays the following tribute to her honored memory:

Beloved by all who personally knew her, and universally respected, this venerable lady closed her long and well-spent life with the calm resignation which goodness of heart combined with piety only can impart. It would seem an abuse of terms to say that we regret the departure of one so ripe and so fitted for a better world. But, in the case of this excellent lady. she continued until within a few weeks to grace society with her presence, and lend to it those charms with which she adorned the circles of the highest, the wisest, and best, during the bright career of her illustrious husband. Whenever she appeared, every one became conscious of the presence of the spirit of benignity and gentleness, united to all the attributes of feminine loveliness. For ourselves, whose privilege it was to know and admire her through the last forty years of her life, it would not be easy to speak in terms of exaggeration of the virtues and winning manners of this eminent lady. To attempt it would add no brightness to her fair name, and would be little all hearts by her goodness and won the admiration of all by the charms of dignity and grace.

GEN. TAYLOR-A TRUE PICTURE.-The Charleston Mercury draws a life-like picture of Gen. Taylor, in the following paragraph. It seems to us that ty, both of whom were addicted to intemperance. no man, who ever made any pretension to greatness, has so soon completely flatted out as Gen. Taylor. He is most evidently "the last of the earlier Presidents."

"For passing popularity, Gen. Taylor has been fortunate in being the first in order of time to win a fresh and brilliant military fame. For enduring reputation, he was unfortunate, in that his victories were indecisive in character, meagre in results, and humble in the display of military skill, compared with those which followed under other leaders. The tide of his military popularity lasted just long enough to carry him into the presidency; and that greater tide of fame, crowned with the honors of other and more illustrious chieftains, came to swallow up its predecessor, just at the moment that the people of the United States had submitted to the conviction that, excepting his claims and merits as a soldier, General Taylor had not a solitary title to distinction, not a solitary quality redeeming him from the common herd of men. By common consent, he seems to have dropped out of remembrance-his enemics not caring to treat him as game worth the expenditure of powder and shot, and his friends wisely judging, that the respectability of their chief could only be secured. like that of the Grand Lama, by keeping him in darkness, and surrounding him with silence. Save by here and there an individual, with whom sycophancy was a blind possion, and babbling an uncontrolable disease, Gen. Taylor has scarcely been mentioned by his friends since his induction into office. The presidency itself has seemed as much a blank, as the political opinions of the incumbent. It has been asserted indeed that he has been allowed to vote in the cabinet; but as no effects could be traced to such an influence, the statement is in great need of confirma-

THE PRESENT MINISTER OF THE U. S. IN ENG-LAND .- A very amusing correspondent of the Liverpool Albion, who communicates every week a couple of columns of what he calls Metropolitan Gossip, gives an account of a grand entertainment at the house of the Turkish Ambassador, in which he thus introduces the present Minister from the United

"Mr. Bancroft, in his plain and rather quakerish cut black coat, ribandless and starless as he was, without even so much as a diamond shirt-stud, failed not to draw much more of the attention of the observant spectator than any of his glittering fellow professionals around him. Apparently about forty-three or four, tall, well formed, with a somewhat scholastic form of face, he has all the polish of the courtier, without any forfeiture of the simplicity of the republican; and there is this to be said of him, which can be said scarcely of any Plantagenet amongst us, he stands the ordeal of a white cravat. Any man who can put a calamity of that sort round his throat without looking like a billiard-marker, a tapster, or a country parson, is fit to shake hands with my Lord Devon, who not only, like D'Israeli, looks upon the Normans as upstarts, but upon Charlemagne as a mushroom."

HEAVY DEFAULTING CASE .- New Orleans, July 7th. -Mr. Jackson Deplecs, formerly a teller, and but recently elected Cashier of the Mechanics' and Traders' Bank, has turned out to be a defaulter while Teller, to the amount of $48,000. A warrant has been issued for his arrest. His bond as teller for $20,000 is solvent. His security, Ellis Clement, now Ellis Gallet, has been tried for forging a note for $10,000. -Tel. Dispatch.

A beautiful tribe, truly.

A Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune says the President was incensed when he witnessed the sad havoc made with the ornamental part of his favorite steed, and gave orders to have him strictly guarded against further intrusions of this Canadian Annexation.

Some of the Canadian papers are arguing the advantages to Canada of annexation to the United States. The following, from the Montreal Herald, will give our readers a specimen of the arguments addressed to commercial men:

"Annexation would probably give the Canadian Free Trader all he desires in his commerce with the States, while it would deprive him of few benefits he now enjoys from low duties on European goods.

* * * It would give the Protectionist, too, all that he wants in the shape of discriminating duties on manufactures, while it would extend his protection over immense countries, and thus render more certain that influx of capital, enterprise and skill, which he desiderates as the high road to improvement. Nor will be regret that the good- grown or made south of the line 45 deg, can enter Canada free of duties, since he has just reason to believe that he can successfully send the produce to Canada to compete with more southern manufactures in Louisiana or Florida-Oregon or California."

Again it says :-

"This measure would give the Americans the free use of our river, so that our wharves would be crowded with their crafts; while it would, at the same time, afford our ship owners reciprocal advantages in American waters, without the delay and conditions, and uncertainty of long drawn out diplomacy, and nicely balanced treaties, made on our side by negotiators from Great Britain, unacquainted with the geography of the country, or the trade of the people. This measure would give an interest in our undertakings to American capitalists, who may see and judge for themselves at the end of a two days' voyage from the principal seats of monetary operations, and so release us from a weary attendance upon British speculators, ignorant of our resources and incredulous as to our good faith. It would increase the facilities and the objects of that trade with the far West, which is just opening; it would secure to us permanently all the good hoped from the reciprocity laws, which we have vainly attempted to obtain from the Congress at Washington; it would reconcile the conflicting notions of the Free Traders and the Protectionists, since it would remove the barriers to our commerce with our neighbors, while it would afford to our manufacturers the benefits of a protective tariff. It would, in short, people our cities; convert our water-falls into motive powers; and equalize the prices of land, now nearly 100 per cent, higher in latitude 45 deg. 1 min. south, than in 45 deg. 1

TAYLORISM AT HOME AGAINST REPUBLICANISM abroad.-The only excuse we have in reply to our American questioning of such proceedings (the suppression of the journals hostile to the administration,) is, that Frenchmen are exceptions to the rest of civilized humanity, and that they are of too inflamable a temperament to be entrusted with an amount of liberty which could not be safely infringed either in this country or in England. Under Legitimacy, under the Citizen King, and under the Presidency, the mal-content press have to be muzzled, first of all after an emeute; and whether Socialism, should it prevail, would be any more lenient towards it, is a matier of doubt .- Washington Republic.

It may be consistent in the President, who threatens to "frown down" free discussion here, thus to offer his countenance to the mock hero and military President who rules over France, in "suppressing the journals hostile to the administration." It may be consistent for the President whose "nomination was not fit to be made" to denounce, through his official journals, the citizens of the transatlantic republic, as "not fit to be entrusted with liberty." President Taylor and Louis Napoleon are the two fittest men in the world to interchange mocks at republicanism. -sneers at the intelligence of the people, and threats at the "journals hostile to the administration." But if the people do sometimes err-if they sometimes look into the camp for a second Jackson, as the people of France have sought a second Napoleon in the family of the first, (forgetting that such men have no seconds,) and if they "find a buszard in an eagles nest," they are the first to correct the error.

The sympathetic Presidents may both assure themselves of this .- Albany Atlas.

The hypocrisy of the present administration, in trying to justify its interference against the cause of Freedom in Germany, could not be more completely needed to move the public sympathy. All of our own exposed than by the extract from the Republic, and country and thousands in other lands will need no the biting comments of the Atlas. Such is the sentilanguage of eulogy to inspire a deep and sincere re- ment of the Republic, and it is just to add, that one gret when they learn the demise of one who touched of the very few journals that deplored the downfall of Louis Phillippe, was the National Intelligencer, the whig colleague of the Republic .- Pennsylvanian.

> SINGULAR AFFAIR .- A few weeks since, a father and son living in Ross county, by the name of Chrisquarrelling, and the son beat the father. The father then ordered the son to leave his premises, threatening, if he returned, to kill him. The son did return, and the father, true to his word for once, shot him dead in his tracks. The citizens being afraid to arrest him after the commission of the horrid deed, he left, and went into Clinton county, where he run at Joseph P. large for two or three weeks, until his daughter, who had witnessed the tragedy, learning his whereabouts, followed him into Clinton, went before a magistrate. made oath to the facts, and had her father arrested. At last accounts he was lying in the Clinton jail, awaiting the arrival of the Sheriff from Ross. This case is certainly without a parallel-a father beaten by his son, a son shot by his father, and the father arrested upon the affidavit of his daughter .- Columbus

SOUTHERN WHIGGERY AND THE WILMOT PRO viso .- The Whig State Convention of Georgia which nominated Edward Y. Hill, as the whig candi date for Governor, passed but two resolutions of a political character—the first expressive of confidence in Gen. Taylor and the administration, and the other

"Resolved, That this convention, referring to the action of preceding conventions of the whig par'y. and to the resolutions of the last Senate of Georgia. in relation to the Wilmot Proviso, as expressing the opinion of the whig party, has only to declare its determined opposition to that measure, as violative of all the compromises of the constitution, and making an unjust discrimination against the people of the

The italics are those of the Convention, as reported in the Recorder.

We commend this resolution to the whig party of the north, who profess to hold the Wilmot Proviso as an article of their political faith, even when voting for one of the largest slaveholders and slave growers in the south for President.

PROPOSED REALIZATION OF CLINTON'S SHIP CANAL. -A movement has been set on foot at Troy, N. Y., which has for its object the construction of a work to be called the Champlain Ship Canal. This work, it is expected, will lead to the enlargement of the canal from Whitehall to Troy, when ships and propellers carrying 3,500 barrels of flour will be enabled to load at Chicago or any of the lake ports direct for New York or Liverpool. When accomplished, this will be a practical realization of Clinton's original idea of uniting the Hudson with the Lakes in such a manner as to avoid the necessity of breaking bulk or trans-

THE LAST DEVICE OF A SWINDLER .- New York has been blessed with a "Confidence Man." A fellow genteelly dressed, who stopped unsophisticated people in the street, and playfully put the question "are you really disposed to put any confidence in me?" The person thus accosted would seem to call for a most energetic negative given by the toe of the boot, "Well, then, continues the Confidence Man, "just lend me your watch till to-morrow! Strange as it may seem, the fellow has found no less than five verdant individuals from whom he has got a watch. He has been arrested, and was found to be an old convict, Wm. Thomson, alias Williams, and will be sent to the prison.

CANAL NAVIGATION SUSPENDED .- We learn from the Alexandria Gazette that, for the purpose of cleaning out, the water has been drawed off the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, and that pavigation will be suspended on it until about the first of August.

The Governor General of Canada is still a prisoner in his own house, not daring to show his head.

PLANING LUMBER. Woodbury's Patent Planing, Turning and Grooving Machine.

THIS Machine has been thoroughly tested by planing over 1, 000,000 feet of lumber. It has planed 3,000 feet in 17 minutes. It is construction is upon an entirely new principle, the cutters are stationary, and it produces a finer and smoother surface than can possibly be produced by any other means now know, the hand plane not excepted. It will plane on both sides to any uniform thickness, tongne and groove 6000 feet of boards in one hour. It is peculiarly adapted to planing and pointing elapboards or weather-boarding, as well as every variety of stick moulding. It requires but two-thirds the power necessary to carry the rotary weather-bearding, as well as every variety of stick moulding. It requires but two thirds the power necessary to carry the rotary planing machines now in use, to do an equal amount of work.

The subscribers, proprietors of the right to use the above Machine in the States of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Missouri, have engaged the Messrs. A. C. Vansiyke & Co., of Buffalo, New York, to construct their machines, one of which will be in operation on and after the first of August next, at the establishment of these gentlemen, where it may be inspected. Southfort, Coss., Jan. 1, 1848.

Messrz. Sands: Gentlemen—Sympathy for the afflicted induces me to inform you of the remarkable care effected by your Sarsaparilla in the case of my wife. She was severely afflicted with the Scrofula on different parts of the body; the glands of the neck were greatly enlarged and her limbs much swollen. After suffering over a year and finding no relief from the remedies used, the disease attacked one leg, and below the knee suppursted. Her physicians advised it should be laid open, which was done, but without any permanent benefit. In this situation we heard of and were induced to use Sands' Sarapari la. The first bottle pro physicians advised it should be laid open, which was done, but without any permanent benefit. In this situation we heard of and were induced to use Sands' Saraparila. The first bottle produced a decided and favorable effect, relieving her more than an other prescription she had ever taken, and before she had used six bottles, to the astonishment and delight of her friends, she found het health quite restored. It is now over a year since the cure was effected, and her health remains good, showing the disease was thoroughly cradicated from the system. Our neighbors are all knowing to these facts, and think very highly of Sands' Saraparilla.

Yours, with respect, JULIUS PIKE.

Extract from a letter received from Mr. N. W. Harris, a gentle-JULIUS PIKE. man well known in Louisa county, Va. : "Gentlemen-I have cured a negro boy of mine with your Sars aparilla, who was attacked with Scrofula, and of a scrofulous famy. SCROFULUS AFFECTION OF THE EYES. SCROFULUS AFFECTION OF THE EYES.

SOUTH KINGSTON, R. I., Oct. 11, 1847.

Messrs. Sands:—Gentlemen.—My little daughter, when one year old, wat attacked with a screfulous humor on her face, which soon after extended into her eyes, causing almost total blindness in one of them, and disfiguring her whole face. I employed two physicians to attend her, who exhausted their utmost skill to give her relief, but it ail proved useless, and finally one of them remarked to me that he had known of some siriking cures effected by Sands'

Robinson, Peter & Carey, Louisville, Ky.; and by Winstandly & Newkirk, New Albany, Ind., and by appointed agents in every town in the South and West.

Tomlinson Brothers, D. Craighead, and W. Hannaman, Indian-tonic provides a continuous cont to me that he had known of some striking cures effected by Sands' Sarsaparilia, and advised me to try it. I obtained one bottle, which she commenced using, and before it was all need up it had effected an entire cure. It is now over four years since she was cured, and there has been no reappearance of the disease, and we are satisfied that it is a perfect cure. It gives me great pleasure to add that I can recommend it to every sufferer from any similar complaint. Respectfully, yours, GEORGE CORINSON.

A RISING from an impaired, weakened or unhealthy state of the nervous or vital system. Dr. Christie's Galvanic Belt

Nervous Spasms

The following is an extract from a letter received from Messrs Mosely & Tucker, well known Druggists, Mobile, Alabama:

"There is a Dr. Hartwell (Doctor of Divinity) in Marion, in this State, who has used Christie's Galvanic Bracelets for the purpose of curing a nervous spasmodic affection of the bands and arms. Upon the least excitement, either mental or physical, his arms became in violent motion, which was perfectly uncontrollable. He tried the Galvanic Bracelets, with the magnetic fluid, and with such success, that since that time (four months ago) he has not had a single attack, although he has travelled to Cincinnati, and there took an active part in the exciting scenes of a Baptist Convention. Through his recommendation, many of his acquaint ances have tried them, and with good success.

FEVER AND AGUE, CHILL FEVER, DUMB AGUE, INTERMITTENT AND REMITTENT FEVERS, AND ALL THE VARIOUS FORMS OF BILIOUS DISEASES SPEEDILY AND THOROUGHLY CURED BY Dr. Osgood's Indian Cholagogue.

The following extract is from the Farmer's and Emigrant's Hand Rook, a valentile work of same 500 pages, recently published by Mesers. Appleton & Co., New York. In chapter 8, page 235, the author, speaking of Fever and Ague, remarks:
"There is a valuable medicine sold in most of the Western cities "There is a valuable medicine sold in most of the Western cities which we can conscientiously recommend for Fever and Ague, and other bilious diseases, it is the Indian Chelagogue, which is prepared by Dr. Osgood, of New York, who has made the bilious discaders of the West his special study. We are no friends of those medicines usually called patent, but we have had ample opportunity of testing the invaluable effects of the Cholagogue in bilious cases."

The speedy and permanent relief afforded by the Cholagogue arises from its prompt and healthy action upon the blood, cleansing it from bile and restoring it to purity; thus striking at the root. Its tendency is not simply to suspend disease, but to remove the cause on which it depends. It is equally adapted to all ages and conditions of the system.

In this preparation are strongly concentrated all the Medicinal inds, the most subtury productions, the most potent simples of the vegetable kingdom; and it has been so fully tested, not only by patients themselves, but also by physicians, that it has received their unqualified recommendations and the approbation of the public; and has established on its own merits a reputation for value and efficacy far superior to the various compounds bearing the name of Saraparilla. Diseases have been cured, such as are not furnished in the records of time past; and wint it has already done for the thousands who have used it, it is capable of doing for the millions still suffering and struggling with disease.
